Little Drew was born prematurely at 32 weeks and weighed only three pounds. He was the fourth son for Sarah and Neal Blanchard, both residents of St. Paul, Minn. At one point, he weighed just two pounds. On Dec. 19, it was reported by the St. Paul Pioneer Press that seven-week-old Drew had been taken off life support. After a pair of unsuccessful heart surgeries — one in 2007 and one in 2008 — Neal and Sarah and their family started to look for another option. With a little help from a grandmother and the internet, they found a doctor in Arizona who helped Drew. "If they hadn't found an attending doc in Arizona, they would not have known about the medical options in Arizona," says Neal, 42, a retired airline pilot. "They would have had to have relied on us to find the right doctor in Denver, a good hospital, and do everything for him there. It just would have been too much." Drew spent the first two months of his life in Arizona — first at the Center for Life Options in Tucson and then at the Phoenix Children's Hospital. At the Center for Life Options, Drew received care by Dr. Karen M. Henselman, who performed the surgeries. Drew's medical team knew his parents would want more time at home and in the hospital when he was an infant, so they made a few calls to pediatric cardiac centers in the

Welcome to the Modmye machine (aka Boycott Mobile) news page! Hi there, first of all a big thanks to everybody who's subscribed to this page already. We've tried to keep the page up to date with the latest news from the modscene and put it all together in one place. Remember, if you want to contribute (articles, etc), feel free to get in touch with me via my various twitter/g+/facebook profiles, or even leave a comment here. Whilst I haven't got a job and just do this little thing during my spare time (some weekends and holidays), I've made it a habit to try and keep up to date with the latest mods and updates released and I've made it a priority to keep abreast of news and happenings. Overview of the week (I'll cover the rest after) - I fully believe and have been reading here for a couple of years, that modding is more about the community and the help and support that is given to each other and no company or publisher. I believe this is a spirit that many modders share and I believe that this gives projects like the modmye machine a great sense of community and growth. - As this page grew to the point that it would benefit from a bit of a facelift, myself and the other moddy guys (Marco, Diego, Joe, etc) have taken a bit of time over the past few months to try and get a new look, a new layout and more up to date content, to make this platform a a better and more useful tool for the MMD players out there. - On the design front, I've asked some of my buds in the design community to design and implement a logo and symbol for us and it's been up and running for about a couple of weeks already. I'd like to say a huge thank you to the gang at [XPL Designs] for the amazing logo they designed and supplied for us, it's amazing and really shows off the friendly atmosphere of the site. - The site has just started to grow and this little project is just one small step in me and the other crew reaching out to the community more and more, me and the other mods are on twitter and the other sites we're known for are g+. - I've also been inspired to write a couple of articles over the last week or so and will be slowly rolling out a few of
