Can anyone help me please? Many thanks in advance for any help
A: The download page you're taking about is for crack ONLY and not the downloader. There is no way you can download that part of the software. However, you can search for an online installer that doesn't need a crack. This is the only way to install that version. Q: What is wrong with my tsconfig? Any idea how to prove this? A: Yes, all the $\zeta(2n)$ are equivalent. There's just an indexing problem. Perhaps you have come across the standard indexing of the $\zeta(s)$, and so are wondering if all the the $\zeta(2n)$ are the same thing; no, they are. If you're coming from the usual "We can define the $\zeta(n)$ as real numbers, and then we can define a complex $\zeta(s)$ by analytic continuation", then the idea is you can do that, and at some point the real and imaginary parts of $\zeta(s)$ will agree. However, the complex $\zeta(s)$ is defined in \mathbb{C} , so the real and imaginary parts will generally disagree, giving rise to the real numbers with an even index, and the complex numbers with an odd index. For each real $s \neq 1$, there is a unique $\zeta(s)$ such that $\zeta(2n) = \zeta(s)$ for all integers n . You can calculate
