Piping Hot is a fun and relaxing puzzle game for the casual gamer. Rotate and connect a group of pipes to make a path, avoiding the pipes that fall from above. Be sure to connect the starting and ending blocks before time runs out or the water drains. Keep tapping and keep your pipes connected! Best of all, Piping Hot offers 4 different game modes: - Original -- 1 or 2 player mode where each pipe must be connected in a single line. Each player must think of his or her own strategy to figure out a way to connect the pipes. - Decathlon -- 4 players mode where each player must connect each pipe as his or her strategy tells them. - God Mode -- 8 player mode where one player is challenged to connect all the pipes on each level. "God Mode" turned the game world upside-down. - Unlimited Mode -- A procedurally-generated 2 or 4 player mode where one player is challenged to connect all the pipes on each level as the puzzle presents itself. Piping Hot Features: - 12 levels - 4 game modes - Unlimited levels - "God Mode" challenge: Tired of getting by? Don't feel like you have to connect all the pipes to get good? This game is all about high scores so it's not always necessary. - 2-4 players choice - iPad only - Game Center leaderboards - Amazing graphics - iPad only! (Game can be played on the iPad, but not vice versa.) {"id": "H2M-1124", "categoryId": "site7CHG", "name": "Piping Hot (iPad)", "pageUrl": "/games/bordwoy-ch-65992-piping-hot-ipad.aspx", "thumbnailUrl": ""}

Tablet turn based strategy RPG - as we have already written about a few times - they have a nice, solid graphics and decent mechanics. Also, it has very nice gamepad controls. The problem with all gamepad strategy games - as they are usually only able to be experienced with a gamepad - is the latency. Yes, they have a setting for that, but usually it is set to the fastest possible setting, resulting in a gameplay that is rather sluggish. Very well known game: Welcome to the land of Roman Britain, where Britain's most notorious citizens have been executed and where barbarian invaders still threaten to bring Britain to its knees. The Conqueror: Join Fabio's campaign to conquer the Roman Empire in this epic turn-based strategy game. Build your Empire, gather allies, recruit powerful heroes, and lead your armies into battle. Recruit a collection of heroes and upgrade their abilities to complete missions. Defeat your enemies by capturing and fortifying key towns. Do you have what it takes to conquer the empire and become the ruler of the world? Play through the story missions and campaign or challenge other players in the PvP arena! With a selection of powerful new Heroes, new unit upgrades, and a wealth of new content, the Conqueror update is packed with upgrades, new quests, characters, and much more. Conquer the Roman Empire in single-player or play with others online in the all-new PvP Battle Arena! The Conqueror: An interesting puzzle game. Perhaps the object is to make the ball pass through all of the obstacles as quickly as possible. However, the difficulty increases with the number of obstacles. If this is the case, the game is not bad, but it is definitely not outstanding. The game has nice graphics and it is nice to see the ball passing through the obstacles that are falling towards it from the bottom. Besides that, I have not found a special feature in the game. There are not enough characters in the game. Unfortunately, I have only been able to play this game once and did not make myself entirely clear about it. I recommend this game only if you have a spare hour or two. Key features:- Nice graphics;- Only one game in the game;- A nice game to pass the time; Gameplay Stunt Rally 2: STUNT ROAD is the fast-paced driving game where you must dodge and pull stunts to overtake as many cars as possible and earn high scores. STUNT ROAD features over 40 handy and best-known model for freight train modeling, the Stock (Single) unit is a train without a dispatcher (report of movement of each track). Despite the schematic appearance of the track units, both in reality and on the virtual track, you have to think exactly as in real life. The minimum order is a control unit (TCAG), but according to the DTM specification for the implementation of the Stock unit, one additional unit can be used if needed (up to 13 for a TCAG). There are seven units in the Stock with a carrier vehicle for loading and unloading and four units within the stock that are not carriers: coupler switcher, return buffers, ride sounder, hooter for the rhythm of departure (a #94 can possibly be added). If needed, the carriages can be configured up to six in one unit (trains up to 2 carriages) or eight (trains up to 3 carriages) and no extra trains need to be ordered. Thanks to a high Developed by Nima Fakhrara and originally published by Nima Games in 1998, Black Friday is a Half-Life inspired first-person shooter set in Iran in 1979. The player takes on the role of a pro-government paramilitary volunteer during the Iranian Revolution, which means he is on the wrong side of the conflict. In order to complete his mission, the player must survive many waves of attacking terrorists and rebel forces led by the main antagonist, General Mahvash. Black Friday has been re-released several times after it's original publication, the latest of which being Black Friday 2011. This edition includes new levels, three new weapons, improved graphics, high-quality voice acting, and more. Originally released for PC, Black Friday: Revenge (an update of Black Friday 2011) for Windows and Mac was released in 2012. About Nima Fakhrara: Nima Fakhrara is an Iranian musician born in Tehran, Iran. He began playing keyboard and guitar at a young age, and his passion for music later led him to continue studying all aspects of the composition, recording, and production of music. He currently works as a sound designer, composer, producer, and keyboardist for video games, music videos, and radio shows. It's not necessary, Keyboard, ladened with six keys on the left and one on the right, will undoubtedly be least favourite for Chinese customers. The Western-inspired keyboard is also a successor to Lumia Touch 2.0, which was also criticised for its lack of number key. The Microsoft patent application has envisioned more than 15 such laptops that feature specialized or novel keyboards by Microsoft. So far, Microsoft had made laptops that featured either a touch screen or trackpad, which it claimed was a “critical feature for users who are accustomed to the touch experience of touchscreen devices.” It also made the laptops with more compact chassis. Microsoft is working closely with companies like Cortech, which is thought to be the parent company of Haptik, to design touch-based software for future devices. The laptop will likely run Windows 10. Lastly, the laptop will come with front-facing camera for Skype calls, coming to India at the last. In fact, its rivals including its Chinese peers like OnePlus 6T and Honor 9 Lite also sport similar feature. The older model, on the other hand, is an upgrade to the original Lumia Touch. In fact, it also came with three variations of displays with screen sizes varying from four to six inches. In the latest patent, Nokia was also suggested to launch a new model with a OLED display. Such technology will be limited to top smartphones. Although, it will be interesting to see how current Chinese models will look like when they are launched. This patent filing by Nokia is certain to infuriate Android-based phone manufacturers such as Samsung which also debuted a similar product in July. The South Korean firm said such laptops will have a 4K screen as well as ensure sensor data. The Windows operating
