Updated the Media Library plugin to fix error issues that occur when trying to delete video files from the library. Now uses the Media Library plugin's autofill functionality to only show items that match the query in its title and metadata fields. To populate the queue, videos that match the query are read from the cache first, regardless of how much free RAM is available. If the file you selected is an image or video, it will be cut if the user has the option enabled and saved with the original name. The option can be found on the Advanced tab of the Settings dialog.
